Military Spec Butyl Rubber Gloves

NBC Butyl Gloves are "solution-dipped" providing unparalleled protection for their users, and protect against a wide range of chemicals. Tight molecular structures are the key to chemical impermeability. State-of-the-art microprocessors provide accurate controls every step of the way, from mixing our proprietary butyl and neoprene compounds...to dipping...to curing and drying, in order to attain the necessary strength. They protect against: nerve and mustard agents, acids, alkalis, MEK, MIBK, acetone, & other chemicals. Butyl rubber has excellent resistance to Aldehydes, Ketones, Esters, Alcohols, most inorganic acids, most caustics, Dioxene. Agent resistance (maximum recommended usage time) for: Mustard Gas (HD) - 75 minutes, Nerve Gas (GB) - 360 min. Solution-dipped for maximum chemical impermeability Defect-free surfaces for highest levels of protection. Available in small, medium and large.
